MEMORANDUM FOR: George Cary

The attached letter of September 5 from Senator Jackson as Chairman of the Subcommittee on Arms Control sets forth a process for declassification of a highly classified testimony regarding SALT I. It is a good example of how the process works, i.e., the Subcommittee marked deletions that they believe "might jeopardize our national security." The Director was then asked if there were additional materials "whose disclosure would jeopardize our national security." We are then given the opportunity to so mark the transcript and supply justifications.

I wonder if your office could develop a "laundry list" of other Congressional committees who have used a comparable procedure to declassify material. This would be very helpful. If you could secure it as soon as possible it would be more helpful.
